THE CALL OF ANDALUSIA

FROM SPECTACULAR GORGES TO VILLAGES SUSPENDED IN TIME

From 7 to 14 April 2027

Andalusia is a land of contrasts, where imposing mountains alternate with deep gorges, landscapes shaped by time, and small white villages perched on the hills. A territory where nature meets a thousand-year-old history, leaving behind traces of Roman, Arab, and Christian civilizations.

A journey that will lead us to discover some of the most evocative corners of southern Spain: we will walk along trails immersed in nature, cross spectacular canyons, admire waterfalls and unusual rock formations, and visit villages that seem suspended in time. From the dizzying walkways of the Caminito del Rey to the mountains of the Sierra de Grazalema, from the houses embedded in the rock of Setenil de las Bodegas to the historic atmosphere of Ronda and Seville, it will be an experience that alternates days of trekking with moments dedicated to cultural discovery.

Day 2 — Thursday 8 April 2027

Sierra de Grazalema and Garganta Verde

Today is dedicated to the Sierra de Grazalema Natural Park, one of the most evocative mountain landscapes in Andalusia. We will venture along the Garganta Verde trail, a route immersed in a spectacular natural environment, amidst rocky cliffs, Mediterranean vegetation, and deep canyons. Before returning to Ronda, we will visit the beautiful town of Grazalema.

- Length: approx. 7 km
- Elevation gain: +480 m

Day 3 — Friday 9 April 2027

Caminito del Rey and El Torcal de Antequera

In the morning, we will transfer to the El Torcal de Antequera Natural Park, famous for its extraordinary limestone formations, shaped by erosion over millions of years. Here, we will take a walk to discover an almost surreal landscape, among unusually shaped rocks and panoramic viewpoints.

In the early afternoon, one of the most iconic experiences of the trip awaits us: the Caminito del Rey, a spectacular path on suspended walkways along the walls of the Guadalhorce canyon, reaching heights of about 100 meters in some sections. An evocative route that allows us to cross an impressively sized gorge, amidst breathtaking views and remnants of the area's industrial history.

Day 4 — Saturday 10 April 2027

Setenil de las Bodegas and surroundings

In the morning, we will visit Setenil de las Bodegas, one of the most characteristic villages in Andalusia. Its uniqueness lies in the architecture of its houses, built directly under enormous rocky overhangs or embedded into the walls of the Trejo river gorge. We will stroll through its most charming narrow streets, where the rock becomes an integral part of the homes and daily life. Afterward, we will visit the town of Olvera and Zahara de la Sierra, magnificent examples of the white villages of Andalusia. In the afternoon, we return to Ronda for a city tour.

Day 5 — Sunday 11 April 2027

Sierra de las Nieves and its waterfalls

We will explore the Sierra de las Nieves National Park, a mountainous territory characterized by forests, limestone peaks, and high-value natural environments. Our hike will follow the course of a river, leading us to discover some charming waterfalls and the greenest corners of the park. On the way back, we will visit the characteristic blue village of Júzcar.

- Length: approx. 10 km
- Elevation gain: +480 m

Day 6 — Monday 12 April 2027

Salto del Cabrero and Zahara de la Sierra

We will return to hike in the nature of the Sierra de Grazalema with an excursion starting from the small village of Benaocaz. We will follow the Salto del Cabrero trail, a route that crosses one of the most characteristic mountain environments of the park, amidst limestone cliffs, open vistas, and spectacular rock formations.

- Length: approx. 8 km
- Elevation gain: +250 m

In the afternoon, we will reach Zahara de la Sierra, one of the most evocative Andalusian pueblos blancos. Perched on a hill and dominated by the remains of its ancient Moorish fortress, the village offers splendid views of the surrounding territory and the reservoir below.

Day 7 — Tuesday 13 April 2027

Seville, between history and traditions

We will dedicate the day to discovering Seville, one of the most fascinating cities in Spain. Accompanied on a visit to some of its most representative sites, we will admire its extraordinary historical and architectural heritage, the result of the meeting of different cultures and dominations.

Among the city's iconic landmarks are the Cathedral with its famous Giralda, the Real Alcázar, and the characteristic neighborhoods of the historic center.

The afternoon will be free, allowing everyone to explore the city at their own pace, take a break, or immerse themselves in the atmosphere of its squares and alleys.

Day 8 — Wednesday 14 April 2027
